Relax Unwind Enjoy Create

Give yourself time to reconnect with your inner muse and nurture your love of writing in inspiring surroundings – the beautiful Hills of Gold and charming town of Nundle on the Peel River. Share a weekend workshop with fellow writers, developing your craft and feeding your creativity.

Tutors English teacher, Nicola Worley, and freelance writer and former deputy editor of Australian Country Style magazine, Megan Trousdale, invite you to step out of your everyday routine and bring out your best writing with Nundle's peaceful atmosphere, stunning rural landscape, heritage buildings, local organic produce and home cooking.

Sat-Sun July 24-25 or Sat-Sun Sept 11-12, 10am to 4pm.

Fee one day $95, two days $165

For bookings please telephone facilitators Nicola Worley 0428 724 708 or Megan Trousdale 0427 693 310 or visit nundlewriting.com.au

Explore Observe Record Enliven

Your base will be the comfortable, heated CWA Rooms in Jenkins Street, and you will use the town of Nundle for writing inspiration, from the sheoak-lined banks of the Peel River, and the Primitive Methodist Church filled with quirky pre-loved goods, to the Nundle Museum's fascinating artefacts of life on the goldfields and surrounds.

Come prepared to share details of your inspirations, such as your favourite writers, aspirations of what you would like to do with your writing, and perspiration...the process of transforming your thoughts into words. Bring an adventurous spirit to take part in writing exercises to help awaken your wild mind, that deep place where wonderful writing brews.

For bookings please telephone facilitators Nicola Worley 0428 724 708 or Megan Trousdale 0427 693 310 or visit nundlewriting.com.au
